Solution

1.

Ans: The Surat Split took place in 1907 due to conflicts between the Moderates and Extremists within the Indian National Congress.

The Moderates, led by Gokhale and Naoroji, wanted gradual reforms through constitutional methods, while the Extremists, led by Tilak, demanded immediate and assertive action.

As a result, the Congress was divided into two groups, which weakened the movement temporarily but later helped shape new strategies in the struggle for independence.

Ans:

(i) Who partitioned Bengal?

Bengal was partitioned by Lord Curzon in 1905.

(ii) Two points explaining the Nationalists' view on the motive behind the partition:

(a) Divide and Rule: Nationalists believed the British wanted to divide Hindus and Muslims to weaken the growing unity in Bengal.

(b) Suppress Nationalism: They felt the partition was meant to break the strong nationalist movement in Bengal, which was the centre of anti-British activities.

(iii) Objective of Assertive Nationalists and two contributions of Bal Gangadhar Tilak:

Objective: The Assertive Nationalists aimed to achieve Swaraj (self-rule) by adopting more direct, forceful methods instead of peaceful appeal.

Two contributions of Tilak:

(a) Slogan of Swaraj:

Tilak gave the famous slogan, "Swaraj is my birthright and I shall have it," inspiring future nationalists.

(b) Revival of festivals:

He revived Ganesh Chaturthi and Shivaji Jayanti as public celebrations to promote unity and national spirit.

(iv) When was the Muslim League formed? Mention any three objectives:

The Muslim League was formed in 1906.

Three objectives of the Muslim League:

(a) Protect Muslim interests:

To safeguard the political and social rights of Muslims.

(b) Promote loyalty to the British:

To maintain loyalty among Muslims towards the British government and prevent them from joining the Congress.

(c) Secure representation:

To ensure adequate representation for Muslims in government services and legislatures.

3.

Ans:

(i) Differentiate between the Early Nationalists and Assertive Nationalists, stating one objective and two achievements of each:

Early Nationalists:

Objective: To obtain political reforms and Indian participation in government through constitutional and peaceful methods.

Achievements:

- 1. Promotion of self-confidence: They encouraged Indians to believe in self-reliance and political rights.
- 2. Revival of handicrafts: They supported Swadeshi and economic self-sufficiency, helping Indian industries.

Assertive Nationalists:

Objective: To achieve Swaraj or complete independence, through bold and direct action.

Achievements:

1. Secular and democratic movement: They united people of different regions and religions in the struggle.
2. Political education: They spread political awareness and encouraged resistance to British authority.

(ii) Name the Assertive leader known as the forerunner of Gandhiji. Why is he called so?

Leader:

Bal Gangadhar Tilak is considered the forerunner of Gandhiji.

Reason:

Tilak's ideas greatly influenced Gandhiji. His emphasis on Swaraj, Swadeshi, Boycott, and self-reliance was later adopted by Gandhiji.

Tilak's vision of complete independence closely matched Gandhiji's goal, which is why he is seen as a precursor to Gandhi's leadership.

(iii) Explain how the repressive policies of Lord Curzon and international events led to Assertive Nationalism.

Repressive policies of Lord Curzon:

Curzon passed several laws that reduced Indian participation and freedom, such as:

1. Calcutta Corporation Act (1899): Reduced elected Indian members.
2. Universities Act (1904): Increased government control over universities.
3. Official Secrets Act (1904): Restricted publication of official information.
4. Partition of Bengal (1905): Seen as an attempt to divide Indians and weaken nationalism.

These measures created anger and pushed Indians toward more aggressive politics.

International influence:

Events like the success of Japan in the Russo-Japanese War (1905) and rising nationalism worldwide inspired Indians to believe that foreign rule could be challenged, leading to Assertive Nationalism.

4.

Ans: (b) The Congress and the Muslim League

Explanation:

The Lucknow Pact (1916) was an agreement between the Indian National Congress and the All-India Muslim League to work together and present joint constitutional demands to the British government.

Thus, the correct option is (b).

5.

Ans: (b) 1906

Explanation:

The Indian National Congress was founded in 1885, and the All India Muslim League was established in 1906 to represent Muslim interests in politics.

Thus, the correct option is (b).

6.

Ans:

(i) Composer of Bande Mataram:

Bande Mataram was composed by Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay.

(ii) Reaction to the Partition of Bengal:

The Partition of Bengal in 1905 led to widespread anger and protests across India. People launched the Swadeshi Movement, boycotted British goods, and promoted Indian products.

It created a strong wave of national unity and anti-British sentiment, bringing masses together against colonial rule.

7.

Ans:

(i) Representation of Muslims:

The Muslim League aimed to secure adequate political representation for Muslims and safeguard their rights and interests in India.

(ii) Promotion of Muslim identity:

The League worked to protect the cultural, religious, and educational rights of Muslims, promoting their distinct identity within Indian society.

8.

Ans: (c) Lord Curzon

Explanation:

The plan for the Partition of Bengal in 1905 was proposed by Lord Curzon, the Viceroy of India.

Thus, the correct option is (c).

9.

Ans:

(i) Political aims of Bipin Chandra Pal:

Bipin Chandra Pal aimed to achieve political rights and self-government for Indians.

He opposed British laws like the Arms Act, and through his speeches and writings, he encouraged Indians to resist British rule and demand independence.

(ii) His ideas on National Education:

He believed that education should be based on nationalistic ideas to inspire patriotism and resistance against oppression.

According to him, a strong national education system would create socially aware and self-reliant citizens who would contribute to India's progress.

(iii) Remedies proposed to eradicate India's poverty and unemployment:

(a) Promotion of industrial development:

He encouraged the growth of Indian industries to achieve economic self-reliance.

(b) Progressive taxation and social spending:

He proposed higher taxes on the wealthy to fund education, healthcare, and welfare for the poor.

(c) Swadeshi and economic reforms:

He supported the Swadeshi movement and boycott of foreign goods to boost local production and improve the economic condition of Indians.

10.

Ans: (a) Bengal was too big to be efficiently administered by a single provincial government

Explanation:

Lord Curzon justified the Partition of Bengal (1905) by claiming that Bengal was too large and difficult to administer efficiently as one province.

He argued that dividing it into smaller units would improve administration and governance.

Thus, the correct option is (a).
