Solution

---

1. The primary objective of football is to score goals by sending the ball into the opponent's goalpost while preventing the opposing team from scoring. The team with more goals at the end of the match wins.
2. A football team consists of 11 players on the field, including the goalkeeper. According to FIFA rules, teams can have up to 11 substitutes, but only 3 substitutions are allowed during a match (exceptions apply in extra time or specific tournaments).
3. The goalkeeper is the only player allowed to use their hands, but only within their own penalty area. Their main role is to prevent the ball from entering the goal by catching, punching, or deflecting shots. They also organize the defense and help initiate counterattacks by distributing the ball to teammates.
4. A goal kick is awarded when the attacking team is the last to touch the ball before it completely crosses the goal line without resulting in a goal. The kick is taken from anywhere within the goal area, and the ball must leave the penalty area before being played by another player.
5. The goal kick was awarded because the attacking team (Ocean Guardians) was the last to touch the ball before it completely crossed the goal line without scoring a goal. Therefore, the defending team (Blazing Storm) is given the goal kick to restart play.
6. The goal kick was awarded because the attacking team (Storm Wolves) was the last to touch the ball before it completely crossed the goal line without scoring. Hence, the defending team (Glacier Phoenix) was given the goal kick.
7. The goal kick was awarded because the attacking team (Inferno Blazers) was the last to touch the ball before it completely crossed the goal line without resulting in a goal. Therefore, the defending team (Azure Panthers) was given the goal kick.

8. If a player is found playing without shin guards, the referee stops the player from participating until they wear the proper equipment. The player may also be cautioned for violating the rules.

9. The length of a football field ranges from 90 meters to 120 meters, and the breadth ranges from 45 meters to 90 meters.

10. If a corner kick goes out of play without touching another player, a goal kick is awarded to the defending team.

11. (i) A goal cannot be scored directly from a throw-in; the ball must touch another player first. Since it went straight into the opponent's goal, a goal kick was awarded to the defending team (Falcon Warriors).

(ii) If the ball went directly into the throwing team's own goal without touching another player, a corner kick would be awarded to the opposing team.

12. (i) An indirect free kick was awarded to Iron Titans because the goalkeeper held the ball for more than 6 seconds, which is a violation of football laws.

(ii) If the goalkeeper picked up a deliberate back-pass from a teammate, an indirect free kick would be awarded to the opposing team from the spot where the goalkeeper touched the ball.

13. (i) The goal was disallowed because the forward was in an offside position when receiving the ball. In football, a player is offside if they are nearer to the opponent's goal than both the ball and the second-last defender at the moment the ball is played to them, and they actively interfere with play. Scoring from such a position violates the offside rule.

(ii) Offside does not apply if the ball is received directly from a goal kick, throw-in, or corner kick, even if the player is ahead of the defenders. In these cases, the attacking player can legally receive the ball without being penalized for offside.

14. Offside in football occurs when a player is in the opponent's half and closer to the opponent's goal line than both the ball and the second-last defender at the moment the ball is played to them, and they are actively involved in the play. Being offside is an offense, and the opposing team is awarded an indirect free kick from the spot where the offside occurred.

15. The goal kick must be retaken because, according to football rules, the ball must leave the penalty area before being played by another player. If it fails to do so, the kick is considered invalid.

16. The throw-in must be retaken by the same team from the same spot, because the ball did not properly enter the field of play as required by the rules.

17. If a goalkeeper holds the ball in their hands for more than 6 seconds, the opposing team is awarded an indirect free kick from the spot where the infringement occurred inside the penalty area.

18. (i) Drop Ball: A drop ball is a way to restart play in football when the game has been stopped due to injury, fouls, or other reasons. The referee drops the ball between two players from opposing teams, and play resumes once the ball touches the ground.

(ii) Through Pass: A through pass is a precise pass that bypasses defenders by sending the ball into open space, allowing an attacking player to run onto it and move closer to the goal.

(iii) Quarter Circle: A quarter circle is an imaginary arc with a radius of 6 meters drawn from each corner of the football field. It marks the correct position from which a corner kick must be taken.

(iv) Bicycle Kick: A bicycle kick is an acrobatic football move where a player jumps backward into the air and kicks the ball with one leg while the other leg helps balance. It is usually performed to shoot at the goal while mid-air.

19. (i) Goal Scored: The referee points to the center circle with one arm extended to signal that a goal has been scored and to indicate both teams should restart the game from the center.

(ii) Indirect Free Kick: The referee raises one arm straight above their head and keeps it raised until another player touches the ball after the kick, indicating the free kick is indirect.

(iii) Corner Kick: The referee points towards the corner flag nearest to where the ball crossed the goal line, signaling that a corner kick is to be taken.

(iv) Advantage: The referee extends both arms forward to show that play will continue despite a foul, as the team that was fouled still has a favorable position or advantage.

20. (i) Kicking: Kicking is the act of striking the football with the foot to pass, shoot at goal, or clear the ball. It is one of the primary methods of moving the ball during play.

(ii) Dribbling: Dribbling is the skill of controlling and moving the ball while running, using small touches with the feet to evade opponents and advance towards the goal.

(iii) Tackling: Tackling is the defensive action of taking the ball away from an opponent by intercepting, blocking, or dispossessing them, without committing a foul.

(iv) Trapping: Trapping is the technique of controlling or stopping the ball after receiving it from a pass, kick, or rebound, using the feet, thighs, chest, or head, to maintain possession and prepare for the next move.

21. (i) A penalty was not awarded because the handball was accidental, and the defender's arm was in a natural position. According to the rules, only deliberate handballs inside the penalty area result in a penalty.

(ii) If the defender had deliberately moved their hand toward the ball to stop an attack, the referee would award a penalty kick to the opposing team. Additionally, the defender could receive a yellow card or a red card if the handball denied an obvious goal-scoring opportunity.
